Safe Harbor Christian Counseling is an in-network provider with many insurance companies. This means that clients only pay co-pays and/or any deductible that applies at the time of service.

For other insurance companies, there are still many instances where we can directly bill your insurance provider as an out of network provider and charge you the co-pay at the time of service. Our office staff is available at 1-800-305-2089 to take all of your information and check on benefits for you.

Practice Philosophy

Mission

To provide Christian based- clinically sound counseling for individuals, couples, and families, that helps clients grow emotionally, relationally, mentally, and spiritually - thereby increasing the well being of our community.

Model

We are committed to thoughtfully integrating clinical excellence with a Christian foundation. We help clients to attain maturity by exploring root issues, utilizing strategic interventions, and relying on God's wisdom and guidance.

We believe ... "The purposes of a man's heart are deep waters, but a man of understanding draws them out." (Proverbs 20:5)

Commitment

As a group practice, we are fully dedicated to professional growth and development in order to provide the highest quality of treatment to every client.

All Safe Harbor Counselors have obtained a minimum of a Master's degree from an accredited higher learning institution.

History

Safe Harbor Christian Counseling was formed in 1996 by Erik L. Sundquist, LCSW-C in Bel Air, Maryland. From the beginning, Safe Harbor's driving passion has been to provide a safe haven for clients to explore how they can be transformed by God's healing grace and truth. Its emphasis has been to encourage clients to relate compassionately with others and to resolve issues of the heart and soul.

Robert Hutter is the Director of Safe Harbor Christian Counseling of Connecticut. Rob's early career experiences were in the field of advertising design and art direction. He spent many years designing and overseeing various out-of-home design and marketing projects throughout the greater Fairfield County/New York areas.

Rob recognized God's calling him to practice clinical Christian Counseling after having left the corporate world in late 2000. At the time of the tragic events of 9-11, Rob went on to earn a Master's degree in Counseling from Alliance Graduate School of Counseling in Nyack, NY. After graduation, he came to Safe Harbor Christian Counseling, where he provided treatment for the needs of individuals, couples and families of greater Baltimore County, Maryland.

Rob currently oversees Safe Harbor's Connecticut region, that serves Fairfield, Hartford, and New Haven Counties. He practices integrative Christian counseling, which incorporates various psychological models with the truths of Scripture. Rob collaboratively works with his clients and tends to focus on each person's unique abilities and strengths when dealing with complex life issues. He also believes that the work of the Holy Spirit in each Christian's life is crucial for true and lasting change.
